

The Wassaic Multiple Use Area is a 488-acre state forest in Dutchess County, New York, managed for recreation and wildlife. The area permits passive recreation, including hiking, fishing along the Ten Mile River, and cross-country skiing. While it does not have marked trails, old woods roads as shown on the map offers opportunities for hunting and wildlife viewing.

Map created by Andy Arthur on 10/9/2025 in QGIS 3.44.3-Solothurn. Contains NYS GIS and DEC data with additional campsites added by Andy. More maps at andyarthur.org.

-73.58 -73.58 -73.57 -73.57 -73.56 -73.55 -73.55

41.80
41.79
41.78
41.78
41.77
41.77