

The Roosevelt Truck Trail is a 2.6-mile trail in New York's Adirondack Park, known for its beautiful boreal forest and excellent birdwatching opportunities. The unpaved path is relatively flat and open to hikers, bikers, cross-country skiers, and snowshoers. It features two accessible campsites in a remote section of Adirondack Wilderness.

Map created by Andy Arthur on 11/25/2025 in QGIS 3.44.4-Solothurn. Contains NYS GIS and DEC data with additional campsites added by Andy. More maps at andyarthur.org.
